

JAMES DIERKES, MD, MBA, MS

Dr. Jim Dierkes is an anesthesiologist at Providence Anesthesiology Associates. He went to medical school at Temple University and completed internship, residency, and fellowship at Duke University.

He is a member of three ASA national committees including Occupational Health, Patient Safety, and Young Physicians. He is originally from Philadelphia, PA but now is enjoying Charlotte life with his wife, three children, and pup.

